The Social Rainbow

An intensive training in Rainbow of Desires and Social Presencing Theatre

A progressive course for practitioners, facilitators, activists and those with a grounding in techniques of the Theatre of the Oppressed or related applied theatre backgrounds, this training is designed to enrich and enhance participants' confidence, experience and abilities with Boal's method of theatre and therapy – the Rainbow of Desire – and the opportunity to explore how it inter-relates with Social Presencing Theatre – Arawana Hayashi's methodology for understanding current reality and exploring emerging future possibilities.

This course will be a unique opportunity to experience both techniques in application with the aim of developing individual and social resilience and capacity within ourselves and our communities.

RUTH CROSS - makes things happen, her practice has developed from landscape performance and micro-choreography

GEORGE WIELGUS - practitioner of the Theatre of the Oppressed, writer, performance poet and natural farmer, creative director of Reboot the Roots
